Write the Target

Turn a loose want into one written target you can recognize when it arrives.

YOU NEED

one sheet of paper, a pen

THE WORKING

1. Name one thing you want to begin in your own life.
2. Choose a target that rests on your own acts, not on a sign from outside.
3. Write it in one to three plain sentences on the paper.
4. Read it back and ask if a stranger could tell exactly what the finished state looks like.
5. Rewrite each vague word until the answer is yes.
6. Under it, write one line that says how you will know the target is reached.

WRITE IT DOWN

Write the date and the final wording of the target at the top of a fresh page in your grimoire.

LOOK AGAIN

In seven days, read the target again and note if the wording still matches what you want.
